THIS SATURDAY Chickens ALL KINDS. Exercise for Obesity

It is not necessary to go into details what fatty tissue is, its formation, etc. What is really necessary to know is how best to avoid getting stout, the thing to do is to learn in a few words as possible what to do, and if being practical, why not do it? Scarcely a day goes by but what we see some article in the paper that is really of interest to the man who is in search of health and strength. The great trouble is, the articles are read and with a remark, "That just fits my case to perfection," but the fact is just this: After you have read the article it passes entirely out of your mind and is soon forgotten.

Nearly every day I am asked this question: What can I do to reduce my weight, as you see I am becoming corpulent? The real answer to this is, not to be so lazy, for laziness in many instances is the real cause of people growing stout, and the stouter they grow the more lazy they become. Laziness causes fat and fat causes one to be lazy. Now the best thing to do is to go to work, first find the kind of work you require and then make it a business. Call on R. A. Woods of the Woods Institute and he will give you the proper kind of work and with his bath treatment will make as good a man of you as ever. Phone Main 155.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.
THERAPION. This successful remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Roanet, Jobert, Velpaure, and others, combined all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed. THERAPION No. 1 maintains its work in the blood, and is a powerful purgative for the kidneys, acting on the bowels, and affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless. THERAPION No. 2 for impurities of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swelling of joints, gout, rheumatism, & all diseases for which it has been so much a fashion to employ mercury, karsaparilla &c., to the destruction of sufferers' health and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all poisonous matter from the body. THERAPION No. 3 for exhaustion, sleeplessness, and all distressing consequences of disipation, worry, overwork, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to those suffering from the enervating influences of long residence in hot, unhealthy climates. THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists and Mercantile throughout the world. Price in England, 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d. In ordering state which of the three numbers is required, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the British Government Stamp (a white letter on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

BUCKEYES PROTEST

Will Investigate the McKinley Park Scheme.

Local Club Prefers a Monument to the Martyr.

Committee of Three Will Confer With General Committee on Matter.

The Buckeye Club, through a special committee, will shortly begin an investigation of the McKinley Park scheme, and may bring pressure to bear upon the McKinley fund committee to give up the park idea and take up the monument plan originally proposed as a Honolulu memorial to the late President.

At the regular meeting of the Buckeye Club held last evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitney, Punahou street, the McKinley memorial was the principal topic of discussion. As the Buckeye Club raised a large fund toward the memorial and turned the cash over to the general committee in charge, the members thought they were entitled to make known the desires of the club as to what form the memorial should now take, as the statement was made at the meeting that nothing would be done to improve the park site for at least a year.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt, a member of the general committee, and also a Buckeye, reported to the club that at a recent meeting of the general committee, it was shown that fourteen acres of land had been bought on King street opposite the present baseball grounds. In the left hand corner there is a pond fed by a spring, which could be enlarged as a boating pond. This property cost $7,500. There was also $7,500 in the bank for the development of the park. This was considered enough to cover the premises with earth for lawns. Mr. Westervelt said that at the general meeting it was decided that there was insufficient money to carry out the original plans for the park. After a full and free discussion, the decision was reached that it would be better to wait until the next legislature convenes, prepare the park and present it to the Territory with the understanding that it be maintained properly by the government as a pleasure resort for the benefit of the people.

Dr. Rogers said he had favored a McKinley monument, for the reason that the park might not always be properly cared for, and would therefore not be a credit to the memory of President McKinley. He felt that the Buckeye Club, hailing from the State of McKinley's birth, was deeply interested in the matter.

W. A. Bowen said the facts in Mr. Westervelt's report were disappointing in that a policy of delay had been deliberately decided upon. As for the park idea he thought that it was to be a breathing place near at hand where young children could enjoy it. He was not certain that the Legislature would accept the park and maintain it. It might be neglected. Mr. Bowen favored a McKinley monument as a proper memorial.

Mr. Westervelt said that he individually also favored a monument. It was his opinion that the Buckeye Club should take the matter up with the general committee, and decide upon the improvement of the park and also to procure a monument to be erected upon the grounds.

Mr. Bowen remarked jokingly that at present he had an indefinite fear of trading property with the government. The Club he said was originally in favor of a monument, and subscriptions in the club had been raised on that basis. He felt that a monument was the only proper memorial to a President like McKinley, and it should cost all the money the committee has in the bank and all that could be realized from the sale of the park site.

J. K. Brown, the temporary chairman, had always favored a monument, and hoped yet to see the memorial take that form and upon motion a committee consisting of Dr. Rogers, W. A. Bowen and Rev. E. S. McKinley was appointed to make a complete investigation of the memorial matter and report at the next meeting, which will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brown.

To the suggestion that the park idea could be carried out and a monument erected for $2500 Mr. Brown replied: "A cheap monument in an inaccessible park would be the worst form imaginable."

Dr. Whitney said his plan had always been to purchase the corner at Hotel and Fort streets on which the tobacco store is located, and upon the corner proper erect a monument to McKinley, utilizing the remainder as a mart for the lei sellers.

Stanley Livingstone favored the club with a vocal solo, responding also to an encore. Following this was a moving picture exhibition by Rev. Mr. Rice. Rev. W. D. Westervelt followed with a large number of stereopticon views showing some interesting scenes in China, the photographs being taken by Mr. Westervelt during his recent visit. Both sets of pictures were greatly enjoyed.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

A Lucky Find.

Great excitement prevailed at the fish market early this morning, when a monster shark, the largest ever seen here, was brought in by some Jap fishermen, who immediately proceeded to cut the carcass up. The dorsal fin of the sea monster, measured nearly seventy-two inches, and will be presented to the Bishop Museum. But the bystanders nearly went wild when upon opening the stomach of the shark a variety of ship's instruments and sailors' clothes were found, upon examining the lining of the stomach there were also found several cards explaining the merits of the Douglas Patent Closet, sold by Bath the Plumber, and guaranteed against leakage, and the annoyance of running water. ASHFORD INVOKES THE GRAND JURY

C. W. Ashford, attorney and a defeated Home Rule candidate for supervisor, yesterday presented a paper to Judge Gear, presiding at Circuit Court term, at the same time orally preferring a varied category of charges of unlawful practices in the Oahu county election against persons he did not name.

False personation, tampering with ballots, undue official influence and improper rejection of ballots were among the acts alleged. When asked why he did not present the information to the Attorney General for his action instead of requesting the court to order an investigation by the grand jury, Mr. Ashford stated that the Attorney General and one of his deputies were among the accused, they being charged with coaching a man to impersonate a voter.

Deputy Attorney General Peters questioned the right of Mr. Ashford to attack the Attorney General's department in the manner he had chosen. There was a legal mode of redress; the complaint could have been entered in the District Court.

Judge Gear said redress was obtainable in his court.

Mr. Ashford stated that Mr. Peters was not implicated and, later, that he was only giving Mr. Peters a certificate to that effect.

Mr. Peters did not want any certificate from him.

Judge Gear, after perusing the complaint or whatever it was and holding it for the present confidential, announced that he would deliver a charge to the grand jury on the subject on Thursday morning.

LEAGUE FOOTBALL NEXT SATURDAY

The first football game of the league series will be played next Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the baseball grounds between the Honolulu Athletic Club and the Artillery teams. Both teams have been putting in hard practice for several weeks. The personnel of the teams shows that a battle royal will result, the H. A. C. having some of the best players of former seasons. Kaunahine, the center for the H. A. C's, has shown his capabilities so far this season in practice work, in a manner to indicate that he will sustain his portion of the line. The Artillery team has had the benefit of coaching by Percy Benson.

Territorial Finances.

Treasury receipts for October were $89,772.35 as compared with $110,538.09 in the corresponding month of 1902—leaving out $40,000 interest received from the U. S. Government last year. Expenditures for October were $226,703.51, as compared with $189,869.71 in October, 1902. The current cash balance October 31, was $24,637.48, as against $49,036.36 that day last year. The net loan indebtedness on October 31, 1902, was $1,925,000, and on October 31, 1903, $2,157,000, an increase of $232,000.

GUNS READY FOR RIOTS

Police Station Armory Formidable Arsenal.

Nearly Three Hundred Rifles and Revolvers in Racks.

Many Weapons Were Captured in Various Revolutions or From Lepers.

If a riot should break out in Honolulu requiring not only the services of the police but citizens as well to quell the disturbance, there are enough guns and equipment at the Police Station all ready for instant use to arm 300 persons.

The police station armory consists of two cells facing on the corridor at the rear of the offices of High Sheriff Brown and Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth. In these the guns and revolvers comprising the police equipment are arranged in gun racks in systematic order, the various models being grouped.

Police Officer Elvin is the armorer, and almost every day is spent by him in caring for the guns or inspecting the ammunition. Each gun is carefully looked after, oiled, burnished, cleaned and greased, so that the instant a call is made for a gun it is ready for immediate use. One end of the corridor is allotted to Elvin as a sort of workshop and a gun, a belt, buckle or revolver holster is generally to be found upon his bench undergoing cleaning or repairing.

There is an odd assortment of guns in the armory. There is a fine array of carbines for the use of the mounted police. There are repeating 45-70 Winchester for the foot police, also Remingtons and Springfield. A row of 1876 model Winchester are the trophies of the revolution of '95, being captured from the rebels. The two 44 Winchester rifles taken from the last armed lepers, who were captured by strategy at Kaena Point the first part of the present year, are now added to the armory ready for use. There are rifles and revolvers which were used by suicides, and there is a Lee Metford rifle, such as is used in the British army, captured from a revolutionist. One of the curious guns is a Morse model 1856 Winchester rifle, said to be one of the first rifles of that type, being a breech-loader, but similar in action to the more recent makes. A Mauser magazine revolver hangs upon a peg next to a Louvre magazine pistol.

Every revolver is numbered and hangs from a peg, close to which is the same number on a metal plate. If a revolver is missing from a peg, the armorer knows who has it, and even if the user should be killed in a secluded place and the remains should be found years afterward, the gun if found also, would disclose the identity of the deceased.

An Expensive Paper.

Alfred Freitas, a young Portuguese boy, was arrested on a warrant yesterday charging him with larceny. A day or two ago Freitas sold a newspaper to Mr. Lockwood at the Moana Hotel. Mr. Lockwood had no small change and gave the boy a $5 gold piece, asking him to get change at the office. That was the last the purchaser of the paper saw of the boy or the money.

Justin McCarthy says that Thackeray often created quite erroneous impressions of himself by indulging in irony in the presence of people who were incapable of understanding it. One curious instance which he gives is this: "Thackeray had been dining at the 'Garriick,' and was talking in the smoking room after dinner with various club acquaintances. One of them happened to have left his cigar-case at home, Thackeray, though disliking the man, who was a notorious tuft-hunter, good-naturedly offered him one of his cigars. The man accepted the cigar, but not finding it to his liking, had the bad taste to say to Thackeray, 'I say, Thackeray, you won't mind my saying I don't think much of this cigar.' Thackeray, no doubt irritated at the man's ungraciousness, and bearing in mind his tuft-hunting predilections, quietly responded, 'You ought to, my good fellow, for it was given to me by a lord.' Instead, however, of detecting the irony, the dolt immediately attributed the remark to snobbishness on Thackeray's part, and to the end of his days went about declaring 'that Thackeray had boasted that he had been given a cigar by a lord!'"
